

University Question Time – Wednesday 17th October

A statement from the Students' Union

On Tuesday the 16th of October, the Students' Union held University Question Time at the old S.U. building at Corstorphine. This meeting gave students the opportunity to ask questions to key staff members of the university including the Principal and Vice Principals Kirk and Marshall.

Despite a lower turnout than expected, a number of very important issues were raised, ranging from student specific matters to issues that affect all students.

The university has asked students with any specific concerns or worries to email them so that all matters can be brought to their attention. The email contact is enquiriesnewcampus@qmu.ac.uk and updated FAQ's is available on the university website to be found at www.qmu.ac.uk

With regards to moving to the new campus, it was stated that university were hopeful that the 29th of October will be the first day for teaching at Craighall.

From this meeting and through various emails and calls over the past week or so, the Students' Union has found a number of common concerns across the student body, which include access to library and IT services, timetabling and extensions to deadlines.

The SU will be meeting with the various departments so that we can address the above problems, and we will notify the student body of any success we may achieve. It is important that all students read moderators sent out by the Students' Union.

We would like to encourage any students who would like to discuss any issues regarding the campus delays to get in contact with us through the following ways:
